

ZOHO One – Integrated Business Management

Zoho One offers you all the applications you need to acquire and serve customers (marketing, sales, web & support apps); run operations (finance, recruiting, and related HR apps); and provide all the tools for your employees to work collaboratively (office suite, mail, personal productivity, and collaboration apps).

Altogether there are over 40 applications, plus complementary mobile and native apps along with several browser extensions and extras. All for £30 per employee per month. This means Zoho One offers the broadest suite of business applications on the market along with an administrative control panel for centralised administration and provisioning.

Zoho One is a unique and powerful suite of software to run your entire business, brought to you by a company with the long term vision to transform the way you work.

Experience the Operating System for Business. Zoho One gives you one suite of more than 40 integrated business and productivity applications for your entire organization. Simply turn on an app to improve a process. Then connect multiple apps so different teams can work together to delight customers, manage finances, and work productively.

At Kudos, we continue to be amazed at just how good the Zoho business management suite really is. We migrated to Zoho seven years ago and it's scalability means it has grown with us. Our CRM is fully integrated with our Books accounting package; with our Support Desk; with our Project Management system; with our SalesIQ web tracking & chat app; etc – you get the idea! And because it is cloud-based, we don't need any servers or infrastructure. We are proud to be a reseller of Zoho solutions – Kudos only partner with “best-of-breed” providers. Zoho lead the market with their flagship CRM solution and it's integration with every other module makes it the best business management suite available. And at half the price (literally) of Salesforce, it is compelling.

Zoho was recognized as an April 2019 Gartner Peer Insights Customers' Choice for Sales Force Automation – there is no higher accolade!
